Why you Should Attend?

The term vendor management is used when describing the activities included in researching and sourcing vendors, obtaining quotes with pricing, capabilities, turnaround times, and quality of work, negotiating contracts, managing relationships, assigning jobs, evaluating performance, and ensuring payments are made. It requires a lot of skills, resources, and time.

Though many business owners believe that vendor management is simply about finding the supplier with the cheapest price for a product or service, it's about more than that. It's about streamlining the process for heightened efficiencies and managing vendor relationships to ensure that the agreements made are mutually beneficial for both parties.

With effective vendor management processes in place, you can properly establish service, quality, cost, and satisfaction goals and choose and manage third-party suppliers that help you achieve those business goals.

This course will help delegates to identify and leverage strategic partnering plus continuous improvement opportunities to ensure the effective contribution of the vendor base to organizational goals. This two day intensive course enables delegates to swiftly and confidently implement their learning upon their return to the workplace.
